

I am completely against the use of cell phones on aircraft. The flying experience is already stressful. People speak very loudly when on the phone with minimum or no consideration for others with whom they're sharing space. You're asking for problems if this becomes an option.

I don't think cell phone conversations should be allowed at all. Providing separate seating will not accommdate those passengers who want a more restful flight. Please NO CELL PHONES.